

The Union.

Junction, Kansas, Nov. 5, 1864.

A HINT FOR IRISH VOTERS.

Such of our fellow citizens of Irish birth as intend to vote for McClellan and Pendleton may be congratulated upon the pleasure they will give to the English aristocracy, and its organ the London Times. In voting for McClellan they vote exactly as the London Times desires them to. That journal, in its issues, heaps abuse upon Mr. Lincoln and the Union party, and vigorously advocates the election of McClellan. So does the London Herald, the organ of the Tory party.

All who hate the Union, in England, and all who despise and speak contemptuously of the Irish, strongly urge and desire the election of McClellan and Pendleton. A vote for McClellan, therefore, is a vote which will delight the Union hating and Ireland hating aristocrats in England; and every Irishman who desires to curry favor with English lords, and with the London Times, cannot do better than vote and speak in favor of McClellan. That will be a sure passport for him to British favor. It will not, perhaps, keep the London Times and Saturday Review, and other aristocratic journals, from calling the Irish all kind of names, and classing them, as they constantly do, with beasts and savages; but it may lead these papers to make an exception in favor of those who vote for McClellan.

When, therefore, an Irish citizen is asked why he votes for McClellan, he can answer truly, "because the London Times wants to have McClellan elected;" and if he is asked for still further reasons, he can reply, "because the English aristocracy are in McClellan's favor;" and if he is still pressed for reasons, he may add, "because I should like to win a word of praise for myself from the men who despise the country of my birth, and hate and abuse my countrymen."

Will there be Another Rebellion?

We publish elsewhere a synopsis of Judge Advocate Holt's account of the Order of the Sons of Liberty. They are certainly very numerous, and have for a long time been arming secretly. The precise object of the organization is not known, though its general object is known to be in aid of the rebellion, and it begins to be extensively asserted that the copperheads will attempt a rebellion in the North-west, in the event of Mr. Lincoln's election. It has been threatened by their speakers and journals, and the organization of the Sons of Liberty, together with the adjournment of the Chicago Convention in such a manner as to preserve it as a body, and make another meeting subject to the call of the Chairman, have given some appearance of sincerity to these threats.

There is one way to keep them down and to keep down the rebels, viz.: to give Mr. Lincoln an overwhelming majority in every State. Make his election so stupendous and unanimous that these rebels cannot have the shadow of a hope of succeeding.

DARED AND BADGERED US TO BATTLE.

Gen. Sherman said, in his letter to Gen. Hood, that the rebels "dared and badgered us to battle." So they did. Wigfall, then Senator from Texas, said to Northern men in the Senate of the United States: "Mr. President, we have insulted your flag. We fired upon the Star of the West, and forced her to show her heels, and you dare not resent it!"

And the Copperheads, the cowardly wretches, cowered then, and cowered all through the war, and are now cowering, and swallowing all the insults of the insolent rebels, and begging them for peace. There is not a picture in all history so abject and unmanly.

"The Union as it was!" the Copperhead cries. Where are the 200,000 dead, slain by the rebellion? Where is the freedom from the debt and taxation that distinguished the old Union? Where again are the slain darlings caressingly and cruelly murdered by the villains who broke the Union, because it did not foster the growth of slavery? Standing on their graves we swear, with uncovered heads, that the restored Union shall not be as it was, but as it should be! The blood of the slain darlings shall be the cement of a Republic of Free States.—N. Y. Tribune.

Where lies the interests of the inhabitants of the valley of the Kansas river, in respect to their vote for congressman at the coming election? Most certainly in the election of Sidney Clarke, a resident of that valley. Legislation will be required at Washington at each session of Congress for years to come in regard to the Pacific R. R., and our interests connected therewith. To whom can we trust the matter, if not to a man whose interests are identical with our own. He is honest, capable and well qualified. Let us give him a heavy vote.

Gen. David B. Birney, almost in the hour of his death, presented an example of patriotism which should be a reproach to all the lukewarm and a spur to all the careless nominally in the Union ranks. He was brought to Philadelphia on election day, with the impression of death upon his features. Before allowing himself to be taken to his room, he insisted upon being carried to the polls, and voted, as a citizen, for the cause for which he had fought as a soldier.

It is said that Clark Mills, who "busted" his reputation on an equestrian statue of Jackson, has gone to Orange to make a bust of McClellan. Unseemly competitive haste! It is the purpose of the purpose of the people to make the biggest bust of Little Mac in November ever seen upon this continent. Mill had better retire.

"An armistice, eh?" said an officer with two crutches and one leg. "Certainly I go for an armistice—after Richmond and Petersburg and Charleston have fallen, after Mobile and Wilmington are ours, after the last armed rebel has keeled up in the last rebel ditch. Oh, I love armistice; but I want them to come from the rebel side and not from our side."

A McClellan paper says his nomination is received with great enthusiasm in the army. That is true—the rebel army sent up one universal shout when they heard it.

Gen. Meagher comes out earnestly for Lincoln and Johnson. He declares that although he respects McClellan for his gentlemanly qualities, his letter of acceptance stamps him as unfit for President.

Hon. James S. Brady, of New York, in a late speech says: "Much is said about usurpation of power; but where in history will you find a war against rebellion conducted with such moderation?"

GENERAL ORDER NO. 2.

HEADQUARTERS 15TH REG'T K. S. M., Camp Detzler, Ft. Riley Reserve, Oct. 26, 64. I. The officer and men of this Regiment are hereby granted leave of absence from camp from 10 o'clock this A. M. until ordered to return by the commanders of their respective companies.

III. The Colonel Commanding takes this occasion to thank the officers and men of his Regiment for the alacrity with which they rallied to the call of the State, the equanimity and good nature with which they have endured marching, drilling and camp life, and the prompt and cheerful obedience which they have yielded to all orders. These are the highest evidences which men can give of their loyalty and patriotism, except that which may be given upon the field of battle, and are strong assurances that the men of the 15th Regiment will prove themselves brave and reliable soldiers in the hour of trial.

IV. The Colonel Commanding, whilst he trusts that the men of his command may not again be called upon to meet an enemy in the field, enjoins upon all that they keep their arms in order, and their business and household affairs so arranged as to be ready for duty on the shortest notice. These are times of warfare and of peril, and the State of Kansas must rely upon her brave and true men to defend her soil and uphold her honor.

By order of Col. JNO. T. PRICE.

R. McBRATNEY, Acting Adjutant.
